Maternity & Neonatal Voices

Working in Partnership to improve maternity & neonatal services

Community Engagement and Projects Officer

Maternity and Neonatal Voices Partnership (MNVP) runs as a working group of women, birthing people and their families, commissioners and maternity service staff in the NHS collaborating to review and develop local maternity and neonatal care. It is led by an independent lay person who ensures service users are represented.

We are delighted to be expanding our team to recruit a community engagement and projects officer to work with Bristol, North Somerset & South Gloucestershire service users. You will listen to and represent the voices of people, including minoritised communities, to help shape services to meet the needs of our diverse populations.

As the Community Engagement and Projects Officer, you will develop and implement MNVP activities and relationships with communities in BNSSG and manage projects. You will be a problem-solver and a self-starter, proactive in working together with agencies, and able to galvanise support from our membership. In return, we offer a creative, flexible work with the opportunity to make a difference for local people and inform service design and NHS decisions.
